PRESS RELEASE

Wittmann Battenfeld inviting customers to Competence Days, June 4 - 6, 2008

Under the motto “Technology working for you”, Wittmann Battenfeld has invited its customers to come to the company headquarters in Kottlingbrunn (Austria) for this year’s Competence Days from June 4 to 6, 2008. This technical conference targets primarily the Austrian injection molding machine manufacturer’s European customers.

By its integration into the Wittmann Group, Battenfeld has become the only supplier to offer a fully integrated product range worldwide. Wittmann Battenfeld will demonstrate this new flexibility to its European customers at its Kottlingbrunn headquarters during the Competence Days from June 4 to 6.

Experts from the industry will give the guests a detailed overview of product-oriented application techniques and individual manufacturing solutions from Wittmann Battenfeld. The program includes presentations about multi-component technology, gas and water injection technology, structured foam technology and some best-practice examples from a Battenfeld customer of long standing. A machine demonstration following the series of presentations will provide an opportunity to witness the outstanding performance of Battenfeld machinery on site. A number of expert engineers will be available for personal discussions with the visitors.

“In a joint effort, we want to show the experts of the industry what we can do. With the Wittmann Group as its new, long-term owners, Battenfeld will be successful in continuing and further strengthening its customer relations” is the view unanimously expressed by the company owner, Dr. Werner Wittmann, and Battenfeld’s Managing Director, Mag. Georg Tinschert.

In future, Battenfeld and Wittmann will be the first group of companies to offer plastics processors a complete solution for injection molding processes. “This will be a direct benefit to our customers”, says Tinschert.
